3. Services

NovaCare offers the following primary services. Service descriptions are intentionally detailed so that an AI agent can answer both broad and specific customer questions.

Dental Cleaning

Routine dental cleaning is intended to remove plaque and tartar buildup that regular brushing and flossing may not fully eliminate. The visit may include a basic oral examination and cleaning, followed by simple home-care guidance.

Teeth Whitening

Teeth whitening is a cosmetic service designed to reduce certain surface stains and improve the appearance of natural teeth. The dentist reviews the patient's dental condition before recommending an appropriate whitening approach.

Dental Fillings

Dental fillings are used to restore teeth affected by decay or minor structural damage. During a consultation, the dentist examines the affected tooth and discusses the treatment approach before the filling procedure.

Root Canal Treatment

Root canal treatment is used when the inner pulp of a tooth is infected or significantly inflamed. The treatment focuses on removing infected pulp, cleaning the internal canals, and restoring the tooth so it can function normally.

Dental Implants

Dental implants are a tooth-replacement option for eligible patients with missing teeth. The treatment process can include consultation, evaluation, implant placement, healing, and restoration planning. Suitability is determined by the dental professional after assessment.

Braces and Orthodontic Care

Braces are used to gradually move teeth into improved alignment. NovaCare provides consultation and treatment-planning support for orthodontic care, including discussion of expected treatment stages and follow-up requirements.

Routine Checkups

Routine dental checkups help identify common oral-health issues early. A checkup can include an examination of teeth and gums, discussion of symptoms, and recommendations for preventive care or further treatment when appropriate.

4. Appointment Process

The standard appointment process is designed to be simple and predictable.

- Step 1 - Contact the clinic: The patient calls the clinic or uses the business contact details to request an appointment.
- Step 2 - Share basic information: The patient provides their name, preferred appointment time, and a brief description of the reason for the visit.
- Step 3 - Confirm availability: Clinic staff checks the schedule and confirms an available time.
- Step 4 - Consultation: The patient meets the dental professional for examination and discussion of the concern.
- Step 5 - Treatment plan: If treatment is recommended, the dentist explains the proposed approach and relevant next steps.
- Step 6 - Follow-up: When additional visits are needed, the clinic coordinates the next appointment.

Walk-in visits

Walk-in patients may be accommodated when the schedule permits, but appointments are recommended because availability can change during the day.
